3rd-4th grade Math

Math Lessons for a Living Education is a Christian homeschool math curriculum designed to help your student excel in math. Engaging stories, hands-on experience, and practical applications of math concepts are incorporated to teach your student.

Math Lessons for a Living Education is an award-winning math homeschool curriculum series known for helping students love math. The Master Books' method of education reveals the why behind what your student is learning using short, confidence-building lessons.

The in-class time will be used to teach concepts that this curriculum covers. The tutor will assign the lessons for the week for the parent and student to work together. You will only need to purchase your student's grade book.
